Vent-A-Hood Unveils New Product Catalog

RICHARDSON, Texas – Vent-A-Hood, the company that created the modern residential range hood, has released a new product catalog, featuring all of the company’s most popular hoods and ordering information.

The color catalog features 28 pages of product photos and measurements in a new easier-to-read format for distributors, kitchen designers and homeowners.

Designed by AvreaFoster, of Dallas, the new catalog contains an in motion theme across the pages, simulating the powerful airflow ventilation of the company’s range hoods. The text is divided into hood categories highlighting under-cabinet, wall-mount, and island designs. Special information also includes Euro-Style hoods, liners and custom-order products.

“We manufacture range hoods for virtually any specifications,” said Blake Woodall, director of sales for Vent-A-Hood. “So we needed an attractive user-friendly catalog for customers to choose what works best in their kitchens. From our Quick Ship stock items to our one-of-a-kind custom designed hoods, this catalog explains it all.”

The catalog is available from Vent-A-Hood distributors who supply Vent-A-Hood products to all 50 states and Canada. It is also available upon request by calling the corporate office at (972) 235-5201.

About Vent-A-Hood:

Founded in 1933, Vent-A-Hood, based in Richardson, Texas, is the oldest manufacturer of residential range hoods in America.
