Redesigned trade show booth to compliment company’s popular ad campaign

RICHARDSON, Texas – Vent-A-Hood®, the company that created the modern residential range hood, will unveil a dramatically redesigned trade show booth at the 2005 Kitchen and Bath Industry Show, May 9 -12, in Las Vegas. The two-story booth will compliment the company’s popular “Aromatherapy” national advertising campaign and will showcase cooking vignettes of the company’s latest high-end range hoods.

New prototypes of contemporary design hoods, marking an expansion in design exploration from Vent-A-Hood’s signature product lines, will also be on display.

“The entire booth will make a powerful image statement that not only compliments our national advertising effort but also communicates Vent-A-Hood’s superior technology.” said Blake Woodall, director of sales for Vent-A-Hood.

The second-story, which will be wrapped with banners promoting Vent-A-Hood’s famous features [“Fire-Safe, Easy Cleaning, Efficient, Powerful”], will house a private meeting space.

Vent-A-Hood distributors from across the United States and Canada will travel to Las Vegas to represent the luxury hood line and learn about the latest advancements in the company’s design and function of future hoods.

Vent-A-Hood will be located at booth number 736 beneath its signature oversized three-dimensional hood sign suspended from the convention center ceiling.
